VOLUME SIX

Blue And Gold Ever Lasting

PRESENTED BY THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1953

VICTOR CENTRAL SCHOOL

FOREWORD

In presenting this, the 1952-53 edition of the yearbook we thought it appropriate to use the theme of the universe. Just as the universe is composed of all the stars and planets, so the yearbook is composed of all the classes, activities, and people in the school. We chose the classes from the names of the following constellations:

JUNIORS - Cepheus - MONARCHS

SOPHOMORES - Auriga - CHARIOTEERS

FRESHMEN - Boötes - HERDSMEN

The junior high school and the grades were taken from the names of planets. We hope that you, the reader, will think that the yearbook is as good as the theme implies.

DEDICATION

Mr. Carl Palumbo

We hope this Yearbook dedication can symbolize our sincere gratitude for your complete consideration and generous aid.

You have devoted countless hours to student activities, both to make our school outstanding, and simply because you enjoy working with the pupils. Your record as a teacher is unexcelled, and your willingness to help, combined with your patience with our often ridiculous mistakes, has made you a hero in our eyes.

For all these reasons, and for your genuine interest in the welfare and happiness of every student, the Bagel staff is proud to dedicate this edition to you, Mr. Palumbo.

APPRECIATION

Miss Vera Brown

Year after year, generation after generation, thousands of children have come to know you as a kind teacher and friend. As a teacher, you have imparted knowledge to us in a pleasant manner. As a friend, you have allowed us to confide in you, making us feel you would do your best to help and encourage us.

We realize that you have devoted your life to helping little children get started in school life. It is during our first years in school that we learn how to work together and get along with others. You are a great credit to the teaching profession. You are a perfect example of what children think a wonderful teacher is.

It is for these reasons that we can say very sincerely that we appreciate your kind and generous help. Let us try to speak for all these past generations and ourselves, in thanking you for a lifetime devoted to teaching - Miss Brown

MEET THE EDITOR

SHIRLEY BRAIMAN

The yearbook staff sincerely hopes this issue will fullfill its purposes of acting as a lasting souvenir to the graduating seniors, informing the public of the school's curriculum, and providing knowledge for the students.

Our goal was to make the first deadline. "Get to work", "write", "mount this picture", and so many other cliches dominated the conversation, but the co-operation was "tops", and, combined with the fun, we've really had a marvelous time composing this yearbook. We hope this production has reflected our enjoyment and will be liked by everyone.

Victor Central School

ALTON B. CORBIT, SUPERVISING PRINCIPAL

Victor, New York

Dear Students:

A trip to the moon in the near future?
Space suits for youngsters instead of Hopalong Cassidy suits?
Rocket style space ships and guns that emit hideous sparks?
Comic strips that are not comic but give startlingly realistic foreboding of things to come?

These are but a few of the things that come to mind as one speculates on the theme of this year's yearbook.

How rapidly scientific advancement is made! You students of world history can appreciate the hundreds of years of the middle ages in which no progress was made. Yet, in the short span of the first half of this century, man has taken such tremendous strides that he now talks in realistic terms of conquering space in the not too distant future-probably within your lifetime; possibly within mine. One of you reading this letter may pilot or design one of these strange crafts. Who knows?

Perhaps, too, and this is a prayer, one of the students reading this may make a much more significant contribution. A contribution that is sorely needed. He may find a way by which man can learn to live, at peace, with his neighbor in a spirit of Christian fellowship. Because, although man is finding increasingly better ways of conquering his physical environment and consequently shrinking the size of his world. he has yet to come up with the formula teaching him how to love his neighbor.

Sincerely yours,

Alton B. Corbit,
Principal

HISTORY OF '53

We commenced our trip toward the constellations exactly twelve years ago. It was an eager group of young space men who ascended the steps into the second story of the Gallup Block.

In 1941 we moved to even greater heights both literally and figuratively when we graduated to the new school on the hill. For the next few years our studies seemed to be the same routine over and over, but in the seventh grade the pace quickened as we began to participate in the various activities in our curriculum.

Then the storm really started, we became Freshmen. It was finally up to us to elect class officers and we selected Lee Semmler, President; Dirk Weigert, Vice-President; Marian Brake, Secretary; Patricia Bowerman, Treasurer; and Shirley Braiman, Student Council representative. During this year we had a tag-day, many movies and we won third prize in the Halloween picture contest.

Higher and higher we went. As Sophomores we elected Delores Stemp, President; Dick Ryder, Vice-President; Marian Brake, Secretary; Patricia Bowerman, Treasurer; and Robert McCarthy, Student Council representative.

Time flew rapidly on. We began our Junior year with a dynamic record sales of stationery and after the most important event of the year, our Junior Prom, we found that we were well on our way to having enough money to take our senior trip to New York City. Our officers this year were Delores Stemp, President; Audrey Torquato, Vice-President; Anne Power, Secretary; Patricia Bowerman, Treasurer; and Alan Bowerman, Student Council representative.

At last our Senior year arrived. Our trip to New York was not far away now but the time went very slowly. The weeks dragged by into months but they were activity-packed months. Our class, headed by Shirley Braiman, President; Alan Bowerman,Vice-Presisent, Patricia Criss, Secretary; Patricia Bowerman, Treasurer; and Ann Bluhm, Student Council representative broke all magazine sales records. The main events of the year were the "Candlelight Ball" and the senior play "Our Miss Brooks". Then the big day arrived and we went to New York. We hope that the classes which follow us will have as much fun and success as we have had in the past.

As our Senior year sped on like a Rocket, we suddenly became aware that our biggest money making event, the Senior Play, was not toefar away. From our galaxy of talent we chose our best actors to become the milky way players. For our director we chose the best director of interplanetary plays, Miss Schantz. For our play we chose the sparkling comedy "Our Miss Brooks".

For anyone but Miss Brooks the job of putting on a Senior play would have been a simple task, but not so with her. The play started out calm enough and it looked as though everything would go all right. But it was too good to last and before the end Miss Brooks had to deal with a somewhat spoiled girl, Rhonda Allen; a very angry school board president, Mrs. Allen; and a very self centered principal, Mr. Wadsworth. To complicate matters even more the love bug bit both her and the male lead in the play, Ted Wilder. She fell in love with the athletic director, Hugo Longacre and Ted fell in love with the female lead Jane Drew.

Everything worked out in the end and when the final curtain came down it was agreed that "Our Miss Brooks" was one of the best plays Victor had ever seen.

The Junior Class started off this year on a lofty plain. Under the guidance of our new advisor, Miss Schantz, and the leadership of our Class President, Eileen Hall, we began our main project of selling stationery, which was very successful.

A dance held on the Eve of All Saints' Day, or more commonly known as Halloween, also added a nice sum to our treasury. Throughout the year we were able to sell a variety of pop, candy and gum at the home football and basketball games. Excitement hit a high peak the day our class rings arrived, and our natural talent was discovered when we presented the annual Junior Assembly for our fellow students. Our final project, the Junior Prom, ended an entirely satisfactory year.

All these celestial events brought in a welcome amount of stardust to send us to the Heavenly Gates, or is more commonly known to mere mortals, as New York City or Washington , D. C.?

We are the class that someday will probably be zooming around in spaceships recalling the good old days in Victor Central. We will remember our sophomore year as one of the year's when you seem to be between everything, not a green freshman but certainly not a wise senior.

Under the supervision of Mr. Francello and Mr. Totman we came out on top. We planned our campaigns successfully and carried them through. When we are sitting on Mars, Jupiter, or Venus we'll remember this year with great satisfaction.

After several years of struggling through planet life, we have become full-fledged constellations. Our dreams have finally been realized and we are in high school, starting off with a Freshman Class of 49 members.

With our Senior Trip in sight we started our Treasury by having a Tag Day for both the first football and basketball games. We were also able to check coats at the home basketball games which helped us to accumulate more to add to our treasury.

All attempts were very rewarding as we now have our very important beginning. We ended our first year by presenting the annual Freshman Assembly.

Just as the astronomer keeps a record of the activities in the solar system, we also keep a record of our activities in Victor Central School. This record takes the form of the yearbook. Our adviser, Mr. Francello, with his vast knowledge of spacial English and grammar, piloted us through our long and hazardous journey through outer space. We hope that this production will fairly light up the horizon with its brilliance.

Do you suppose when people are traveling from planet to planet there will still be a Hilltopics? We think so. Where else would the students of V. C. S. learn the facts about what's what at their favorite school? What other newspaper has a "Kitty and Katy" column so interesting? Even space people will want to know which atomic Jack is going with which hydrogen bomb Jill. Everybody will still want to know the latest sports reports of their favorite V. C. S. stars and the newest happenings in the grades.

This year, as every year, the Hilltopics improved itself by the hard work of everyone on the news staff and they will keep on improving themselves even after the "Space" days have arrived. Under the guidance of Mrs. Burns how could they fail?

The Student Council Association is made up of a representative group of students. Each June, the officers are elected from the high school constellations by the student body. The following fall each individual class, from seventh to twelfth, selects a person to represent them on the Council.

Our purpose is to carry out projects, set up school rules, and try to better anything that would make school life run more smoothly. By sponsoring several movies in the early fall, we are able to finance many fine assemblies for the entertainment of the Student Body.

Under the guiding hand of Mr. Corbit, we are looking forward to many more successful years.

Officers for the school year 1951-52 are:

President------Marion Brake
Vice-President-Lee Semmler
Secretary------Audrey Ford
Treasurer------Francis Underhill

The F.F.A. is a smooth running organization of conscientious agriculture majors whose accomplishments are lauded throughout the school. One of their projects is the equivalent of a successful voyage into space. It will always obtain stupendous and enlightening results.

Early in the year they assembled a new planetary council to guide their activities in the coming season. This consisted of Alan Bowerman as chief executive, David Rugg as his assistant and Floyd Yahn and Eugene Gillis as Secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Our first big project was the school fair, which was carried off to perfection and took its place as one of the main events of the school year.

Then we had a banquet at which chapter and greenhand pins were awarded to various members. Individual projects were well carried out and climaxed a year of hard rewarding work which aided immeasurably in their agricultural training.

The stars grow dim and the clouds part revealing the 1952-53 edition of the VCS stardusters who started off their new season with a flashing burst of achievements. Under the sure and guiding hand of a new pilot, the band has climbed new heights on the milky way of music. First they rocketed off with a new idea which resulted in the first formation marching band Victor has produced. They next demonstrated their progress with a parade and concert at Halloween. At Christmas time they combined with the chorus to give a concert which was met with resounding approval by the public. They participated in the annual contest festivals thereby increasing their laurels. The extravaganza of the season was unfurled in a glittering spring concert which put a final touch to a busy season. The clouds close with a thunderclap which releases myriads of silvery hopes for next year.

The moon-flooded stage stands before us in regal splendor and an air of expectancy reigns supreme. The musicians enter and silently take their places. The conductor taps the stand and a new concert season in the VCS Starbowl is underway. Mr. White and the stringed edition of the stardusters provide the entertainment. As the tones are wafted out on silvery moonbeams, the achievements of the organization appear on a fiery pedestal. The orchestra took its usual share of the honors in the annual contest festival with several showy numbers which featured the ever popular pizzicato style. In the spring of the year they added their talents to the years biggest production, which was, of course, our Spring Concert. The season ended on a sweet note and prospects of a fresh chord for next fall.

With voices like angels and cherubs, our chorus assured everyone of its heavenly status. From the time the chorus had its first rehearsal, we knew that here was a group worthy of the highest praise. Equally capable of doing both popular and classical music, the ensemble is under the superb direction of Mrs. Boehmler. At Christmas we presented a program consisting of a group of Christmas Carols. For this program a group of students from the school band joined us. We worked hard all this year but we are ready to soar to even greater heights next year.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Victor Blue Devils, led by four of last year's regulars, finished the first half of the season with seven wins to one loss. Composed of superior players, the team again proved that team work and fine spirit go together to make a championship team.

Coach Lynaugh was again fortunate to have not only an unusually strong starting five in Don and Darvin Pegelow, Lee Semmler, Gene Antonio, and Dirk Weigert, but also had equally good support from such players as Ronnie Gouldrick, Jim Cotter, Vernon Underhill, David Rector, and Tony Mangiamele.

As in previous years, Victor was a championship team all the way, burning up the boards with their fine defensive play and their sizzling offensive manuvers from the very first of the season. With more good material coming up from the Junior Varsity which had an exceptionally good year, it is expected that Victor will have many more top flight teams.

For years we have had two and three way ties for the football championship but this year Victor is riding the peak alone. We conquered all our opponents, winning five games and losing only one, a non-league fray to Lansing Central. We feel that without the expert coaching of Mr. Palumbo, our season would not have been as successful as it was.

Like a shooting comet, our baseball soared over the outfield causing our scores to rise to heights unknown. Our record of six wins against two losses gave our coach Walt Henehan and the team a cause for maximum pride.

With the combination of veterans like Francis Tischer, Lee Semmler, Ronnie Gouldrick, Vernon Underhill, and the Pegelow twins with the slugging freshmen Dave Rector, Jim Cotter, Francis Underhill and Bill Burns, victory was inevitable.

BOWLING AND TRACK

Although a new sport at Victor, bowling is swiftly skyrocketing to great popularity among the students. The team, though composed mainly of inexperienced members, made a good showing against their opponents and great things are forecast for this sport in the future.
